Foreword

Perfection, beauty, regality—qualities every student wishes for his Alma Mater to stand. In this past year admiration has increased as our school strived to attain a goal. Today, we may stand aside, and with a satisfying glance, be convinced that Charles B. Aycock has almost reached its goal.

“With progress comes perfection” could well be the motto of C. B. A. The completion of our new school has made it one of the finest in North Carolina. Webster defines beauty as that “quality which gratifies the eye.” Such a definition is certainly representative of our school. It has been said that beauty is as beauty does—and C. B. A. is very definitely beautiful in both appearance and individuality.

Perfection, beauty, regality—these belong to Charles B. Aycock.

We, the Governor staff, hope we have recorded the events of the past year well enough to keep them alive for decades to come.

The first school at Eureka was a small two room wooden building. It was opened in August, 1881. The principal was J. B. Bailey. The school was ended in 1907.

In 1924 a new brick school was added. On the first Monday in 1925 the new building was opened.

In 1929 the first graduating class graduated. Eureka was then consolidated in 1961 into the present school, Charles B. Aycock. Eureka elementary remains with Mr. Ben Curin, Principal.

Pikeville High School was first occupied in 1924, with Mr. Reins, as the principal. The campus covers an area of ten acres. Pikeville had the first indoor gym in Wayne County; it was really a show piece, at that time.

Outstanding members in the past were: Nathan D. Burger, Dr. J. W. Rose, Lonnie Smith, and Claude Hinnant.

The Nahunta School was formed in 1917 by the consolidation of Oak Plains and Edgewood School, both one-teacher schools. The school was originally located west of the present school site. A few years later Pleasant Hill and Gurley Schools were consolidated into Cogdell school; which became a part of Nahunta in 1924. This left only Aycock School and it was consolidated with Nahunta some 18 to 20 years ago.

The first session at Nahunta School was from the fall of 1917 to the Spring of 1918. The first graduating class was in 1923.

The brick part of the building was added in 1926 and 1927. Mr. Earl Edgerton became principal in 1927.

Administration

MR. R. S. PROCTOR

Through the foresight and endeavor of Mr. R. S. Proctor and the Wayne County Board of Education, the former students of Pikeville, Eureka, Nahunta, and Belfast now enjoy a beautiful building, modern facilities and numerous opportunities in the form of Charles B. Aycock High School.

Several years of planning, plus more time in combining the schools and erecting the building went to bring this modern addition to Education for Wayne County.

Students of Charles B. Aycock greatly appreciate imperceptible organization such as the one in charge of our education.

Board of Education and Principal determine school policy, expenditures for the year.

High Point College, Duke University, and the University of North Carolina gave their best man for the principal-ship of Charles B. Aycock High School. A diplomat, teacher, janitor, policeman and above all, everyone's friend; the man with all the headaches that accompany his position in a school's initial year; the public image; all these spell the name,

JERRY D. PASCHAL. Principal

HARDY TALTON—Chairman of the Charles B. Aycock school board. He served as chairman of the Nahunta School Board.

OTTO HICKS—Vice-chairman of Aycock school. He served on Pikeville school board prior to Aycock.

NANCY CHASE—Represents Eureka. Her husband, the late Johnny Chase, served on the Eureka School Board for many years. She is very active in the Farm Bureau.

JOHN LEE SMITH—Representative of Belfast community. He is employed at Issacc-Kahn Furniture Company in Goldsboro. Superintendent of Salem Church.

Our Day of

A dream was fulfilled on this beautiful December day. Once a dream to many people of Northern Wayne County—now a reality.

Knowledge Is Power

“Sunset and evening star and one clear call for me” best describes classes and the need for education.

In our classes, we associate with fellow students, browse through our textbooks, but seldom ever apply ourselves fully: nevertheless, through the diligence of our teachers we somehow manage to absorb valuable lessons of life. We learn math, science, and become familiar with the usage of English.

With the hope that education gives us, our horizons become brighter; the “one clear call” increases in volume, and we leave Charles B. Aycock, better for having been here.

“Twilight and evening bell
And after that the dark.
And may there be no sadness of farewell,
When I embark.”

Alfred, Lord Tennyson

True is it that Death's face seems stern
And cold,
When he is sent to summon those we love,
But all God's angels come to us
Distinguished:
Sorrow and sickness, poverty and death,
One after other lift their frowning masks,
And we behold the seraph's face beneath,
All radiant with the glory and the calm
Of having looked upon the front of God.

The Gover

Mrs. Sedalia Green—Adviser
Edward Herring—Editor

The 1962 GOVERNOR is a lasting tribute to our Alma Mater. The staff's aim in the publication of this yearbook is to present a picture of our school activities, both regular and extracurricular classwork, club activities, and sports.

A story told in pictures of our work, our play, and our beliefs.

A story told of a school dedicated to an intangible ideal that tomorrow's achievements are built on today's accomplishments.

Staff strives to make

The staff sincerely hopes that these pages have recaptured the spirit of

Future Teachers of America

Organized to encourage students to seek to teach -

Future Teachers!!!

Insuring the future education of our nation, members of F.T.A. strive to be educators of tomorrow.

Math Club

Forms foundation for technical life

The aims of the club are to increase interest in math as a hobby or career.

Promotes student interest in math

Library Club

Aids students —

in making selections

Students in this service club have a two-fold aim: helping other students and increasing their own knowledge of library techniques.

Latin Club

Romans plan activities in ancient manner

In the atmosphere of ancient Roman government, Latin students and their elected officers conduct programs and meetings once a month.

Living in the atmosphere of Rome.

Future Farmers of America

Busy days with the F.F.A.

The main purpose of the Club is to teach the boys, who live on farms, better ways of farming and how to take part in community affairs.

Training students in better agricultural practices is the primary objective of Future Farmers of America.

Future Homemakers seek

Shop work increases the technical skill of F.F.A.'ers.

Future Homemakers of America

Convention lures F.H.A.

Through the F.H.A. activities girls develop characteristics of leadership in their homes, school and communities.

F.H.A. learns the skill of cooking and sewing.

Educator Staff

Superior work on school publications is stimulating

Educator staff members, Betty Hare, news editor; Linda Bunn, Co-editor; Elizabeth Morris, co-editor; Nancy Adkins, business manager; and Frances Hardison, feature editor; discuss plans for a future issue.

The Educator, published monthly by members of the journalism class, appears as a part of the Goldsboro News-Argus. The page, devoted entirely to school news, is written, edited, and designed by student editors and reporters. This unique arrangement affords staff members an opportunity to familiarize themselves with the setup of a professional daily and to better understand the world of journalism.

Aycock High is the only school in the county system that offers journalism.

Co-editors Elizabeth Morris and Linda Bunn and Jimmy Ferrell, adviser, make a final check of The Educator before News-Argus make-up man John Pate puts the page "to bed."

Fourth Estate

Fourth Estate Club members have an opportunity to work for The Educator and help with the weekly radio show produced by the journalism class.

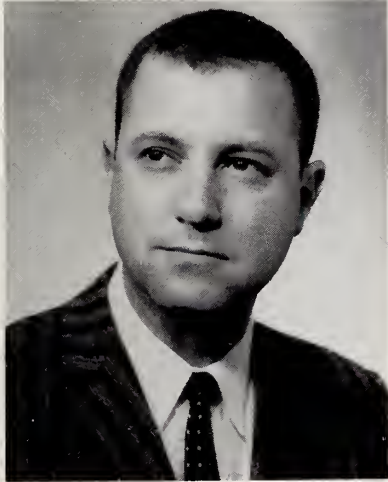

Society honors yearbook, newspaper staff members

Quill and Scroll, International Honorary Society for High School Journalists, recognizes top staff members of The Educator and The Governor. The quill represents the meticulous care which must be put forth to turn thoughts into proper language, and the scroll represents the permanent quality of good writing.

Quill and Scroll was organized in 1926 by a group of high school advisers and today includes more than 7,500 chapters located in every state of the union and in foreign countries around the world.

The charter for the Eugene Price Chapter of Quill and Scroll was granted by the national headquarters in February.

Eugene Price, for whom the local chapter was named, is managing editor of the Goldsboro News-Argus. Mr. Price, who was instrumental in helping Aycock High School establish The Educator, is a friend of all young people interested in journalism and good writing.

Charter members of the Eugene Price Chapter of Quill and Scroll.

Quill and Scroll members from The Educator staff, Linda Bunn, Elizabeth Morris, and Peggy Lassiter, feature editor, look over page layouts from past issues of the school's paper.

Mrs. David Green burns the "midnight oil" with members of The Governor staff as they put final touches to pages before sending them to the publishing company.

French Club

French Club interprets

international affairs.

Under the advisorship of Mrs. Cox members studied histories of France.

Le français Cercle was organized to promote interest in the French language, the country, its people and their customs. To encourage a desire for knowledge of the French people, and their language.

Future Scientists of America

Science Club

The Science Club sponsored by Mrs. Old and Mr. King is worthwhile inasmuch as it makes available for the students of science a scientific interest outside their classrooms. We are striving to enrich the overall science program.

F.B.L.A.

Future Business Leaders of America.

Eligible for membership in F.B.L.A. are those students previously or currently enrolled in commercial courses.

Photographers snap cameras at deadline

Photo Club

Promoting interest in all the aspects of photography is the main purpose of the Falcon Photographer's Club. Adviser Douglas Joyner directs the members in their activities.

We make perfect pictures.

Bus Drivers

The bus drivers club is made up of those who drive buses to Charles B. Aycock High School and the grade schools. Meetings are scheduled during the year and bus problems and regulations are discussed.

Be careful!!!

Handicraft

Learn by doing

Students make a survey of projects.

The objective of the Handicraft club is to develop interesting hobbies in leatherwork. Anyone maintaining passing grades may become a member.

Athletics Means Teamwork

Pride in sports and strong competition . . .

Clearly yelled cheers . . .

The excitement of the championship playoff.

Crowded quarters in which to sit . . .

The injury of a player

And the tense moments of fear that follow.

Glorious ringing of the victory bell . . .

The feeling of triumph after scoring . . .

Proud blended voices

In the Alma Mater at the close of a game.

A new trophy in the case . . .

Great sportsmanship and teamwork.

These are companions of Sports.

Falcons Finish Fast

1961

Persons not to be overlooked on a football team although their names are not often seen on the all-star selections, are the managers and the trainers. The managers take care of uniforms and other equipment; also helping our team to its victories were the avid sports fans of Aycock.

Good cooks for good meals!

Students make a mad rush for cafeteria at lunch time.

Because of long hours of work our building is always spotless. This tremendous job is under the supervision of Mr. Maples, Mr. Smith, and Mrs. Smith.

Mr. and Miss Merry Christmas

Each homeroom selected a girl and boy to represent that homeroom at the Christmas Dance. A contest was held for one week in which students voted for the candidates by giving one cent per vote. The winners were announced at the dance on Friday night, December 23.

Brenda Kearney and Charles Dees

The court consisted of the runners-up from each homeroom.

Senior Play

"MOUNTAIN GAL," three-act hill-billy farce presented by members of the senior class for the purpose of financing a senior trip to Washington.

Mountain folks!

Ma is the hardest worker in the family!

"BACKWOODS ROMEO"
Juniors present hilarious acts!

Here we are and Romeo, too!

Woops! heavy!

Seniors Enjoy a Day of Rest

A picnic lunch and ball game was enjoyed by all despite the weather.

The trip to Washington was fun;
the experience valuable.

Washington Trip

Upperclassmen Contemplate

the Future, Frame Decisions

The challenge of a very real future in a very real world is present by commencement. Each senior looks forward to the day of graduation. For some it is to be the end of formal schooling, for others, the beginning of specialized study in their chosen fields. Deeds, not dreams, lie ahead for members of the graduating class. It is a profoundly solemn moment for the student when he receives his diploma, a moment of deepest significance, for he understands that the time is both an ending and a beginning.

The future holds his chance for the accomplishment of his fondest hopes and dreams.

Our Top Twelve

The top twelve seniors were so chosen because of their scholastic rank in the graduating class of 1962.

The Ending of Many Happy Hours

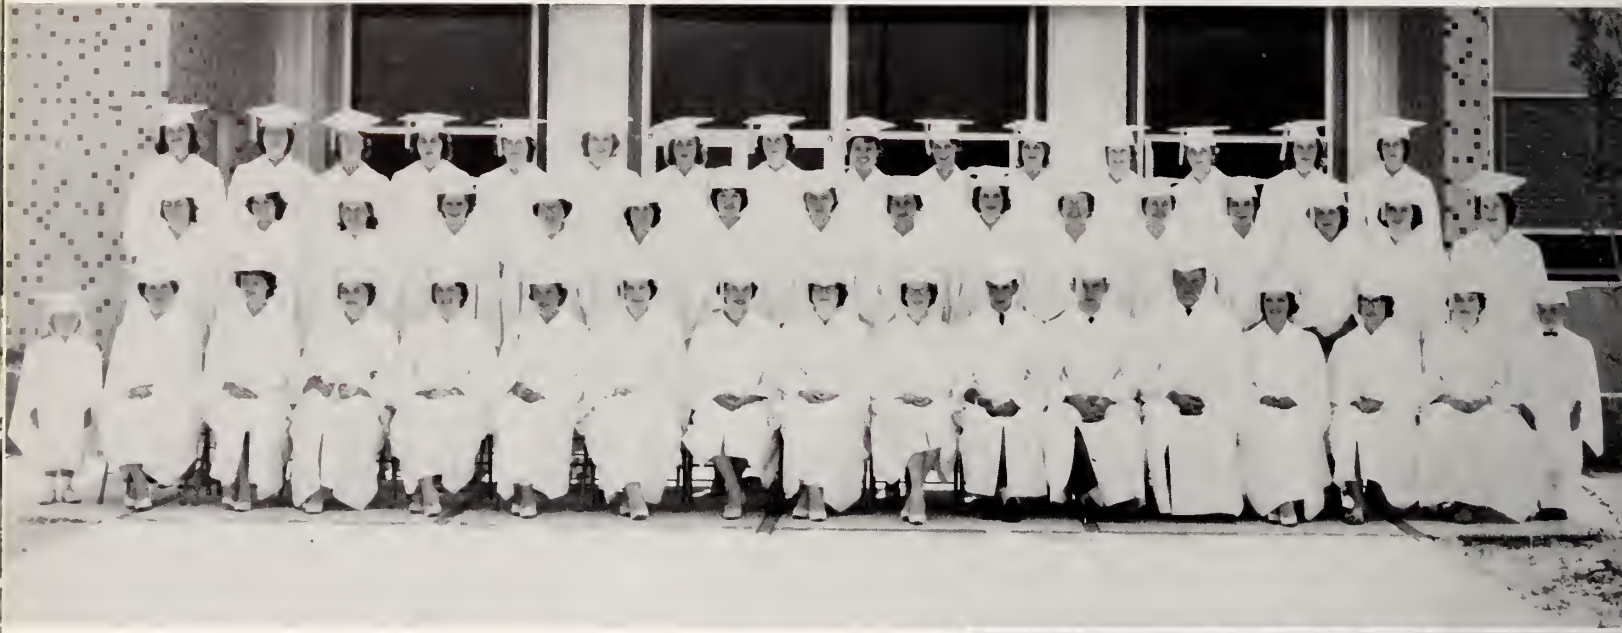

Finals at Charles B. Aycock

Dr. John B. Chase, Professor of Education at the University of North Carolina, delivered the first commencement address at C.B.A. Dr. Chase stressed the point "If you had the power of God, would you build a better world?"

Seniors Bid Farewell

Seniors gladly receive long-awaited diplomas.

The seniors of '62 leave Charles B. Aycock—some joyfully—some sadly.
